Full of character and offering impressive potential, including possible future development (subject to planning), the property is ideal for buyers seeking scale, flexibility, and a prime location. The inner vestibule opens into a reception entrance room showcasing original details, including herringbone-style oak flooring. From here, the central hallway gives access to the principal ground-floor rooms. Off the hall includes a downstairs WC and a well-maintained, fully tanked cellar.

The ground floor provides a generous selection of reception spaces, including a generous living room, dining room, dedicated study, and a garden room to the rear offering exceptional flexibility for family living. The first-floor landing leads to three well-proportioned double bedrooms, including a superb principal suite complete with dressing area, built-in wardrobes and en-suite bathroom. Bedrooms three and four have been opened to create one larger room but can easily be reinstated as two separate doubles with a partition wall if required. A modern family shower room serves the remaining bedrooms.

The property enjoys a beautifully landscaped rear garden with an impressed concrete patio seating area, extensive lawn, and a selection of established shrubs and mature trees, an excellent space for families and outdoor entertaining. The generous plot size further enhances the property's future potential, subject to the appropriate consents. To the side of the property is a detached garage with electric roller shutter door offering excellent further storage space.

Coach House:

The two-storey coach house has been reconfigured by the current owners to create a highly versatile building. The ground floor features a spacious open-plan living and dining area that connects directly to a fitted kitchen, providing a self-contained day-to-day living space. On the opposite side of the coach house is a separate entrance hall with stairs rising to the first floor, along with a ground-floor shower room complete with WC and wash basin.

The first floor offers a large open room currently used as a bedroom but equally suitable as a home office, studio, guest suite, or hobby space. A separate WC with wash basin completes the first-floor facilities. The coach house has its own gas supply and central heating system, while sharing water and electricity with the main residence.
